Cindy Biles combines her love of art with a formal education in biology and anthropology. She uses humor and enthusiasm in the classroom to challenge students to exceed their own expectations. Cindy's award-winning art has been shown in several galleries and can be found in private collections throughout the country.

You are a great clay teacher! I wish you could come every Friday. Student, Alamance County

Cindy transformed inexperienced students into confident sculptors. Teacher, Alamance County

Cindy is passionate about children and her craft. The creative way she integrates social studies and math into her programs is truly visible. Teacher, Alamance County

I am overwhelmed by the wonderful experience you brought to our students. Parent, Wake County

Clay in the Classroom!

Project-based, cross-content workshops and residencies

My daughter is so proud of the penguin she made! Parent, Wake County

Programs with an emphasis on Science include:

- ◆ Animals of the World's Biospheres (such as Coral Reef, Rain Forest)
- ◆ Animal Adaptations
- ◆ Seasons/Weather
- ◆ Life Cycles of Animals

Your students will learn a lot and have a lot of fun working with clay, a wonderfully tactile material! They will draw inspiration from their imaginations and experiences, take risks, think critically, follow grade-appropriate instructions and solve problems creatively. These programs fulfill many of the North Carolina Competency Goals and Objectives in such content areas as language arts, science, social studies, math and technology. Cindy is constantly developing new programs from which to choose, or she will develop a new project that dovetails with your classroom studies and activities.

She is available year-round.

Programs with an emphasis on Art and Art History include:

- ◆ Narrative Art: Telling a Story with Clay
- ◆ Portraits/Self-portraits

Programs with an emphasis on Social Studies include:

- ◆ Art in Other Cultures
- ◆ Pre-Columbian Art of Central America
- ◆ Folk Art
- ◆ Gargoyles!

You taught us history, too. Our pots turned out awesome! Student, Johnston County

It was really fun and exciting! I hope I can work with you again. Student, Johnston County
